LOCAL WOOD SELLER

NICKED BY BUZZ SAW

It doesn't pay to monkey with a buzz-saw. Take it from Gus Wolter, Carmel wood dealer—he knows. Last week, while cutting wood, two fingers of his left hand came in contact with the saw and were slightly injured. "Boy, talk about luck! I only nicked the tips," says Gus.

Gus was watching someone crank a Model T and forgot he was sawing wood.

Mrs. Helen Freedle, of Seaside, mother of a new born infant, died on the way to a hospital. The child also died.

COLLEEN MOORE COMING

TO CARMEL THEATER

"The Power and the Glory" reported as Jesse L. Lasky's most important film in a career replete with important films, comes to the Carmel Theatre beginning Sunday and is scheduled for a run of two days. It is Mr. Lasky's third production as a producer under the Fox banner and marks a high point in the screen achievements of this veteran.

The story of the film cannot be separated from the method in which it is told. Through a new medium evolved by Lasky, the film reveals the important events in the life of a man who rises from the most humble of beginnings to a position of great power and influence. It shows his change from a simple young man without any education to a figure of national importance with his life a complicated affair of manifold interests and great wealth. It depicts events which intrigue, adventure and romance.

The new method of screen story-telling is called "narrative" and is said to prestage a new form of motion picture technique. It takes the story in its usual chronological order and emphasizes only the incidents that are important to the pattern of a lifetime.

Spencer Tracy in the leading role, has a characterization that has been heralded as the outstanding one of his career. It is said to present him with almost unlimited opportunities for a varied portrayal of personality. Colleen Moore, absent from the screen for three years, makes her return in the leading feminine role opposite Tracy.

The supporting cast, headed by Ralph Morgan and Helen Vinson, includes Clifford Jones, Henry Kolker, Sarah Padden, Billy O'Brien, Cullen Johnston and J. Farrell MacDonald. The script in which the idea for narrative was first revealed, is from the pen of Preston Sturges, noted playwright. William K. Howard directed.

JOE COUGHLIN NOW

EDITING CHINESE PAPER

The following is taken from a current issue of Time: "East, published in Shanghai, by the Shanghai Post-Mercury company, edited by Joseph Coughlin who used to run the Carmel, Calif., Carmelite, is the 'Newsweekly of the Orient.' It copies Time's makeup, runs a brief department called 'The Week in Miniature' as well as a portrait on the cover.

A fire in the chimney at Pine Inn yesterday evening about six o'clock called out the fire department. The blaze was put out with a hand extinguisher.

MISS FLORENCE TERRY

MOVES POTTERY SHOP

Miss Florence Terry, proprietor of the Little Pottery Flower shop has moved from the building next to the library to the room occupied by the Postal Telegraph company for the past two years, next door to the Curtis Candy Store.

Miss Terry's shop is quite in line with Carmel traditions, as in it are exhibited hand made pottery flowers for which Miss Terry imports the finest clay from France, and also water colors, etchings, etc., made by the proprietor herself.

ANNUAL CELEBRATION

TO BE HELD AT MISSION

An annual celebration in the Old Mission Church, which has been carried on since the days of the padres will be held next Sunday at ten o'clock mass with the Rev. Father O'Connell celebrate in charge.

The guests of honor will be the descendants of the Indians of early days and a dinner will be served to them after the services. Immediately following mass, there will be a procession during which the statue of San Carlos Borromeo will be carried and a hymn to the saint will be sung by all.

The committee in charge will comprise Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. T. B. Reardon and Mrs. Lourdes Mallagh.

HALLOWE'EN ROWDIES

DID MUCH DAMAGE HERE

Eleven boys from Monterey and Pacific Grove were held for some time in the fire house in Carmel after they had been caught in Halloween rowdies. One Pacific Grove young man, 21 years of age, was taken before Judge Wood after being caught in suspicious circumstances, but nothing could be proved and he was allowed to go home.

Eggs, rotten pears and tomatoes were smashed against store fronts, gates were broken off and much property damaged. Perhaps such things are funny.

SHORT STORY CLASSES

TO BE DISCONTINUED

Owing to the press of other work, Bruce Fox, who has been teaching a short story class in Monterey and in Carmel, will discontinue his weekly visits.

Mr. Fox writes: "I am really sorry about this, for there is considerable talent in your little town and I'm sure many of the persons whom I met will eventually make good in this difficult writing business. Incidentally, any of them who might wish to have me look over their work, can get in touch with me at my address, Box 875, Mill Valley."

Red Cross

Wants You

Dear Carmelites:

It is a fact that the Carmel Red Cross receives no money from any organization. For this reason I urge you to give liberally to the Carmel Red Cross in order that we may provide for our own Carmel people who need assistance. Please give your donations direct to the Red Cross worker who will call at your door on or after November 11. In order to cover the future needs of the community of Carmel it will be necessary for our Red Cross Chapter to collect $3,000.00.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Robert Stanton,
Chairman.

At a recent meeting of the Carmel Employment Commission attention was called to the fact that the county administration of work-relief differs in some details from the methods followed by the Employment Commission and leaves single men to the care of other agencies especially the Red Cross. With this in mind, the Commission passed the following resolution:

WHEREAS, closing the work of the Carmel Employment Commission throws an added burden upon the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross,

RESOLVED, that the Employment Commission bespeak the generosity of the public toward the Red Cross to the end that it may carry out its work efficiently and prevent suffering among our people who are still in difficult circumstances.

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD

COURT OF HONOR 10TH

The Boy Scouts are preparing for a grand time on November 10th when they will hold their Court of Honor at Sunset School. This will be an affair including all the troops from the peninsula and the Carmel troop will be hosts.

Merit badges will be conferred on the boys who have taken the tests in the different phases of scouting and an excellent program is being prepared.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH CO.

CLOSES CARMEL OFFICE

After two years in Carmel, the Postal Telegraph company is closing its office and will transact its Carmel business from the Monterey office. Caroline DeBolt who has been in charge here, will return to the Monterey office.

MYRTLE LEONARD WILL

SING HERE NOVEMBER 11

Myrtle Leonard, contralto with the San Francisco Opera company, will appear at the Denny-Watrous Gallery November 11th. Miss Leonard's singing is known by many Carmel people and music lovers are looking forward to the treat of having her in this city.

Critics from the largest cities throughout the United States acclaim Miss Leonard as an artist of the first water. Madame Schumann Heink said: "It is the only real contralto voice I have heard." She always refers to Miss Leonard as "the other contralto."

It is probable that some here will recall Miss Leonard as having won the Schubert Memorial contest, the reward being a solo appearance with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra and a recital engagement at the Midwick Country Club in Pasadena.

Ben Barnett, New York City, said: "It has been many a day since I have heard such a superior and unusual voice. Miss Leonard delivers her songs with respect to the natural hearing facilities of the listener. The finesse and technique of Miss Leonard is a joy and delight."

OLD MISSION CHURCH

INDEPENDENT PARISH

After more than a hundred years of being connected with the Monterey church, the Old Mission Church of Carmel has been made an independent parish, by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Scher, with the new pastor, Rev. Father Michael O'Connell in charge.

At a meeting in Serra Crespi hall last Monday night, attended by the new pastor and the ladies of the Old Mission Guild, plans were made for social activities to be held in the near future, the first occasion to be a card party held Tuesday, November 7.

Father O'Connell congratulated the church on having such a fine social hall, stating that it was the best he had seen any place in the state and he is anxious that it be made use of to the fullest extent.

GOLDEN BOUGH PLAYERS

GAVE GOOD PERFORMANCE

Although the play by the Golden Bough Players under the direction of Edward Kuster passed into history with its third performance last Saturday night, Carmel folk are still speaking of the production.

"Art and Mrs. Bottle" was more in the way of entertainment than the name suggested, in fact, the only objections have been to the name itself, it being considered by the great majority to be inadequate in picturing the kind of play that was being given.

The cast was a small one but each one deserves individual mention for characterization and a professional air. Albert Van Houtte as the irascible but lovable, father; Georgia Wapple as the erring but forgiven mother; Arthur Hatley, the fickle lover; Yvonne Castle and Philip Remmer, the disappointed young folk; Edwina Pinkham as the model; Tom Crosthwaite as the rejected suitor and Oudine Houser as the maid.

Those who missed seeing this play missed a treat.

Support of these Golden Bough Players' productions means that you are giving your support to keeping the little theatre movement and the legitimate stage alive in this section of the world.

Edward Kuster deserves your support. He has not only spent a great deal of time on theatrical interests here but has invested a great amount of money. It will pay us who live in Carmel to bear this in mind.

MRS. KENDALL GIVEN

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Mrs. Edna Kendall who was given until November first to decide between a $20 fine or a ten-day jail sentence, was given the sentence to be suspended on good behavior.

RALPH JAMES OPENS

NEW ART STUDIO

So that Carmel people need not go over the hill when they desire sign painting, Ralph James has opened up a commercial art studio on Ocean near Mission.

Ralph is a Carmel boy and does not have to learn the art designs that are suitable to the traditions of this city. He is doing some splendid work as is evidenced by the new signs which are appearing throughout the business section.

SCHOOL NOTES

There will be a short student body meeting Friday of this week presided over by the vice president, Homer Levinson. Planting and traffic control will be discussed.

Following the student body meeting Friday, the pupils from the Overflow room will present a shadow play, based on a story by Robin Hood. It is arranged in five short scenes, the acts being carried on in pantomime, with King Henry's jester bringing the story in words. Alberta Holland will take the part of Robin Hood and Dorothy Smith will be the jester.

ANNUAL COMMUNITY

CHEST DRIVE SOON

Next Sunday evening at six o'clock the Community Chest campaign workers will meet at the Girl Scout House at Sixth and Lincoln to receive information, instruction and their working equipment.

A supper will be served by the Girl Scouts and their Council for which a small charge will be made to cover the bare expense. The charge for the supper will be 35c.

The campaign for the collection of funds starts on Monday the sixth of November and it is hoped that there will be enough workers to complete the canvass in two days. Anyone who can give these two days to help will be very welcome.

A letter sent out by the Boy Scout committee this week states as follows:

"The Carmel Boy Scouts have made definite and constructive progress. From a small group with uncertain leadership and sponsorship the local troupe has reached a capacity enrollment, and plans are already under way for the formation of a new troop. Interest on the part of the boys and local citizens forecasts the success of this venture."

"The Boy Scouts receive financial aid from the Community Chest. You may designate that your contribution to the Chest shall be allotted to the Boy Scouts. A boost for the Chest is a boost for the Scouts."

The Girl Scout council appealed also through a letter as follows:

"Carmel has nearly fifty girls in three troupes which meet three afternoons each week in the attractive Scout House in Carmel, where they receive instruction for development in various activities within the scope of scout work. These include life saving and fire prevention as well as many features of home and family life."

"We ask you to be generous in your support of Scouting when the Community Chest campaign begins on November sixth, thereby expressing your faith in the principles of community service we are accomplishing in Carmel."

HIGHLANDS ARTIST HAS

STANFORD EXHIBITION

An exhibition of oils by John O'Shea, well known Highlands artist, is now being shown at Stanford University, and will continue to be shown until November 19.

Mr. O'Shea's paintings were recently exhibited at the Denny-Watrous Gallery and attracted a great deal of attention from an enthusiastic public.

FIRST REAL RAIN

FELL HERE MONDAY

Although the rain was late in coming, it was no less welcome and many hearts were happy Monday to see the life-giving water pouring down on the parched grazing lands.

A small rain fell earlier in the fall, but didn't bring enough moisture to make the grass start growing.

RUSSIAN GIFT SHOP

MOVES TO OCEAN AVE.

The Russian Tea Room and Gift shop is this week moving to the building next door to the library from the Seven Arts building on Lincoln.

Mrs. Jadovskoy, who has charge of the Carmel branch, informs a Sun reporter that she will make a specialty of tea and luncheons in her new location, along with the selling of the lovely things from the Gift Shop.

Although the public had made a path to their door, Colonel and Mrs. Jadovskoy feel that they will do better to be located not only where their friends look them up, but where strangers coming into the city will pass their door.

INTERESTING

CARMEL

Interesting things about Carmel

In our wanderings about the town we discovered a real homey little shop. There is something so distinctive and different about it that one wishes to call again and again. Maybe it is because you feel at home as soon as you cross the threshold.

Once you are inside "The Little Shop in the Little House" many a surprise awaits you. You are greeted with a hearty and cheery welcome by Mrs. Caroline Edwards, the proprietor. It is delightful to chat with her. She is so interesting and charming that you will certainly call again. Also there are so many things to see that it is worthwhile to visit this unique little shop.

This newest of shops in Carmel is located on Lincoln between Fifth and Sixth.

You'll be surprised to find a Monterey place of business in interesting Carmel but the mention is justified by the fact that Colonel and Mrs. Jadovskoy belong to Carmel, having first come to this little city where they established their Russian Tea Room and later, added their Gift Shop.

But, if you haven't dropped in at the Monterey branch of the Tea Shop, you have missed something. A huge samovar heats the low-ceilinged room to a comfortable temperature, and the lighting is so arranged that one feels themselves in a farm house and while you may never have been in Russia, you can imagine a well-to-do peasant family gathered around their home for the evening.

Russian decorations and bright colors, and a cupboard containing colorful pottery, help complete a very pleasant picture.

ORCHESTRA IS REHEARSING

FOR CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Monterey Peninsula Orchestra is now rehearsing for the children's program to be given the fifteenth of December at a matinee. There will also be a matinee on December sixteenth, but the place has not been fully decided upon.

A feature of the program will be a Christmas ballet by Ruth Austin and her pupils.

The full program will be announced later, and promises to hold some very entertaining numbers.

CARMEL COUPLE

WED IN EAST

Word has been received here of the recent marriage of Mrs. C. J. Griggs and Mr. Lynn Gentry, both Carmel residents. Mrs. Griggs has a home at Seventh and Camino Real. Mr. Gentry has been occupying the Sillman house here.

EDWARD WESTON WILL

EXHIBIT AT GALLERY

Edward Weston, famous photographer, will hold an exhibition of portraits, exclusively, at the Denny-Watrous gallery, beginning the last of the week.

While Mr. Weston has exhibited here before, he has not hitherto limited his showing to portraiture.

Mr. Weston's work is recognized nationally and Carmel people are proud of the distinction of having him as a resident.

Mr. Weston's shows at present are at Ansel Adams Gallery San Francisco, Chicago, and Shanghai and he is preparing a show for New York for the first of the year. All portraits in gallery have been done this year and all are unretouched.

Edwin Feliciano, 16, Frank Avila, 20, and Floyd Lynch, 17, were injured Friday night when their car overturned on the Salinas-Castroville highway.

BRANDIS KNOCKS OUT

STORM IN SECOND ROUND

By The Sports Editor

Homer Brandis KO'd Leo Storm in the second round of the main event at the Presidio last Friday night. It was Brandis' fight all the way. Storm was on the floor four times. Storm subbed for Gene O'Grady who got his eye cut while training. Too bad as a battle between Brandis and O'Grady would have been worth watching.

Buck Anderson got a technical KO over Rusty Westman, both of the Presidio, in the fifth. It was a good fight.

Johnnie Manchú and Derry Berry slugged each other with chandeller rights and lefts for three rounds to a wild desperate draw.

Larry Wright of Salinas punted Tex Richard for three rounds to a decision. It was Larry's all the way.

Flashy Bud Naulty slapped Kid Roberts into dreamland in the second. Naulty hit Roberts with everything but the referee's conscience.

Billy Jones sunk a dusky fist into the bread basket of the great unknown in the second. The great unknown folded up and called it a night.

Al McPherson won from Kid Nilson in a good fight. McPherson got out of the ring with a black eye and the winner's end of the purse.

Two flea-weight wild cats put on a real battle for three rounds. It was a draw.

It was a good card and the crowd left with the feeling that they had their money's worth. The men in charge of the fights deserve a lot of credit as it takes a lot of work to put on card after card and not put on a poor one.

Mrs. Belle Davies of Los Gatos is visiting her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Etta Stackpole. Mr. Stackpole, accompanied by his son, Howard, came down Sunday from San Jose and brought his mother.

LAW

"Nevada has a great law. When they vote on a bond issue or have two ballots. One is for property owners and one is for non-property owners, and to pass, it has to have a majority of both."

It behoves some members of the state legislature, who wishes to acquire everlasting fame and the undying thanks of long suffering bond paying property owners to use his best efforts and endeavor to have the Nevada law adopted for California.

For instance: An individual with his family and belongings bundled in an auto, drives into town, locates in a cheap house, secures work at his trade if he has one and registers as a voter. When an election is to be held a bond issue on the ballot, he votes acceptance, work becomes scarce, packs his family in the auto and drives out of town, leaving the property owners holding the bag on the bond issue.

Numerous bonds are saddled on property owners and as a general rule, some private interests are the gainers, either by a commission or the disencumbrance of some undesirable property at a fancy figure.

Carmel Valley

The big news down at the low end of the valley this week is the announcement of the date for the wedding of Miss Ada Belle Mason, well-known Carmel Valley girl, to Mr. Leo Lutes. The ceremony is to take place December 9, early in the day, after which the couple will leave on their honeymoon to Colorado to visit the groom's relatives there. The couple have been engaged for quite a time, and so the announcement is not in the nature of a surprise. Upon their return, they will reside in King City.

The school bus from Monterey high school is now operating. It made its first trip Monday, and came along so early in the morning that it caught several of the boys and girls in bed or at breakfast. Consequently, there were but 12 passengers that morning. Following that time, the bus has found its passengers waiting for it.

Contrary to the announcement, the bus is being run on a contract with the Bay Rapid Transit company, as are the other school buses. This contract extends to December 2, on which day the school board is to have a meeting to decide whether to continue with the present contract or purchase its own bus for the Carmel Valley line. Bids are being gathered on the cost of a bus.

Highlands

Mrs. Elizabeth Bigelow has returned to the Highlands from a brief visit to Santa Barbara.

Mrs. J. O. Niswonger and her house guest, Mrs. Elsie Fagerell, left Highlands Sunday for their respective homes in San Francisco.

Highlanders are taking an active interest in the Carmel winter music season. The following have subscribed to season tickets: Mrs. Thomas G. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Shea, Mrs. Elizabeth Bigelow, Miss Emily Pitkin, Mrs. Laura Dutton.

John O'Shea who recently exhibited his south sea and western desert paintings at the Del Monte Hotel gallery, is now holding the same exhibit at Stanford University. After the showing at Stanford it is expected that the exhibit will be taken to San Francisco.

Now that the firemen's ball is a thing of the past, the men of the Highlands fire department will again busy themselves with the immediate task at hand—construction of their club house. From all reports their dance was a huge success, well worth all the trouble and hard work.

Peninsula News

The high wind Monday morning blew down a high tension wire in Pacific Grove. The fire department guarded the danger zone until the line was repaired.

Mrs. Helen Freedle, of Seaside, mother of a new born infant, died on the way to a hospital. The child also died.

Joe Rossi of Seaside was slightly injured Sunday night when a car in which he was riding with A. Zognoni went over a ten-foot bank on the Monterey-Carmel highway.

Edna Macey, 18, of Seattle, steered her bicycle into a parked car Sunday and received cuts about the head and two broken teeth.

Miss Edith Heron Monterey artist, who has been traveling in Europe for several months, has arrived in New York, but will visit in the east before returning to California.

The San Carlos canning company will probably appeal the case wherein they were assessed a fine of $100 for possession of illegal weighing equipment. Lucido, the manager, disclaims responsibility and suggests that the scales had been tampered with by unfriendly fishermen.

The annual meeting of the Peninsula Past Sachers of the order of Red Men met in convention in Monterey Sunday. George M. Smith, of San Jose, Great Sachem, was guest of honor.

A test will be made in the near future of the law which makes Monterey Peninsula a game refuge. The cause of the people of Pacific Grove who are objecting, is led by Miss Julia B. Platt.

The victims of a train wreck last week in Pacific Grove are recovering. Herbert Cairns, brakeman, Pacific Grove; L. F. Christian, engineer, Watsonville, and L. H. Johnson, conductor, were the injured.

Pacific Grove students are making a competitive drive for old paper, the winners to receive free theatre passes. Proceeds from the sale of the paper go to the Community Chest.

Edwin Feliciano, 16, Frank Ayila, 20, and Floyd Lynch, 17, were injured Friday night when their car overturned on the Salinas-Castroville highway.

MISCHA ELMAN THRILLS CARMEL IN RECITAL

By P. M.

In the very hub of that dear city, Vienna, at the head of the Graben stands the "Eisener Stock." This originally a wooden, not an iron, stick received from each newcomer to the city a nail driven deep into its core. This of course happened many years, even centuries ago, but never-the-less suggests a possible means of marking in an ineradicable manner the Great Ones who appear in our Carmel.

And so in imagination we drive another nail and still another for Mischa Elman and his supreme accompanist, Stanford Schlusell.

Did we possess the necessary egotism to pose as music critic we might now proceed to describe the performance of Tuesday evening with accompanying comments, reflections, deflections, sarcasms, witticisms and other devices which are drawn from the bag of those all-knowing beings, the Music Commentators. However we scribes of this village have learned that humility is a virtue and so, bowing before genius, we append the program with we hope permissible addenda.

First a Handel Sonata played as Mischel Elman plays the classics. Then a Mozart Sonata played in such hush that only our imperfect ears prevented us from knowing that the gods themselves applauded. Next Concerto of Glazounow in which Mr. Schlusell attempted to replace seventy-nine of the eighty members constituting a symphony orchestra. It is our belief that even a large concert grand piano cannot produce the volume attained by a single violin in a cantabile passage. And although the remark overheard last night to the effect that Mr. Schlusell is probably the most musical man in the world is likely true, still, with only a diminutive piano we must confess that his problem in this number proved futile. So we are led on to wonder why Mr. Elman, with his inexhaustible repertoire of the violin to choose from must present a work for orchestra in chamber music form.

Following these major works came a group of minor works, including the much played transposed Chopin Nocturne in which the mute plays the principal part. The diabolical (at least diabolically difficult) Ballade et Polonaise of Vieuxtemps was followed by an encore, another and another encore ad infinitum.

And so Mr. Elman, Mr. Schlusell, Messers Wagner and Davis we thank you.

THE MYSTIC DEN

Oldtimers often tell us of A mystic den down by the sea Where bold men found a ledge of gold. Despite the ocean's treachery. There is a den down by the sea. That's fathoms deep and reaches back. So far its granite floor and walls Seemed painted o'er with deepest black. Now Henry mused about a den He'd known, and took a rope one day And let him thru a crevice down, Far down a narrow, winding way. A torch of pitch he held to light The strange and slippery path before; And even while the tide was low There boomed far back a deafening roar. With hurried glance he saw a pick, A rusty pick that might have lain Upon a ledge for many years, Or since the galleons sailed the main. But sudden from a crevice there Like some volcanic vapor's swish The ocean's brine was crawling in— Or maybe 'twas a devilfish. Not now was gold a lure to him, Who dared this subway to explore— And there the rusty pick still lies Above the deep den's slimy floor. But yet there cleaves a legend which Portrays a mystic den where gold Was sought and found in granite slabs By bold men in the days of old.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT AT SAN CARLOS, EIGHTH

A car driven by Mrs. H. Miamoto, wife of the truck gardener of the Mission Farm, and one driven by Maude Carroll, bearing a Kentucky license, collided at the intersection of Eighth and San Carlos when the latter car swung out too far in making the turn from Eighth.

Mrs. Miamoto had her young son with her, and though he had a hard bump against the windshield, he claimed to be unhurt.

No complaints were filed, the bill for repairs being settled by the parties concerned.

CLUB GIVES RULES FOR HIGHWAY SAFETY

Here are a few highway safety and common sense rules every motorist should try to follow, according to the National Automobile Club:

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape — particularly with regard to brakes, steering gear and headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
4. Stop and look at all railroad crossings.
5. When you come to a "stop" sign—stop, not merely if you think a policeman is watching you.

6. Always signal before you slow down, stop or change your course.
7. Don't "loaf" when traffic is heavy.
8. Don't give strangers a lift. This may prove dangerous.
9. Never throw cigarette or cigar butts, pipe "heels" or matches out of the car until you are dead sure they are out.
10. Exercise courtesy and tolerance on the road and you will derive greater pleasure in motor-ing.

Just Anything

By Just Anybody

I must be dumb. I am unable to see why, if the government insists on "no competition" among business firms, they should object or be surprised when all steel companies put in the same bid for rails. According to all information that has been handed out, it would have been a violation of the steel code had the companies named individual prices.

Which also makes me wonder whether the government will quit selling stamped envelopes below cost when the printers' code is accepted. Every job printer in the United States has had to go up against the government's unfair price on envelopes many times during a year. It is hardly likely that the government will go out of the retail printing business now since they have disregarded concerted action on the part of printing establishments all over the country, lo, these many years.

"I know of just one way to get money," said John Jordan of the Pine Inn. Stand back everybody, give Mr. Jordan room to breathe.

JAPANESE DANCER AT

COMMUNITY THEATER

On Saturday night of next week another world figure will make an appearance in Carmel. At the Community Playhouse the celebrated Japanese dancer and mime, Michio Ito, with a company of six, every one of whom is herself a dancer of individual personal fame, will give the identical program which took the Eastern states by storm last season. The group supporting Ito is headed by Lillian Powell, who already has many admirers among such of our residents who have seen her own programs in New York.

The engagement of Michio Ito and his company will be the outstanding ensemble dance event of the Peninsula this year. Ito's production of the ballet from "Prince Igor" at Hollywood bowl two years ago, with Molinari conducting was the major event of the Bowl season. His more recent "Pageant of Lights" as Pasadena Rose Bowl, in which more than two hundred dancers participated won him wide acclaim.

International artists who have been Ito's pupils include Ruth St. Denis, Gertrude Hoffman, Angna Enters, and many others. His fame rests equally upon his individual artistry as a dancer and as a creator of dances and ballets. A brilliant teacher and a supreme showman, the program which he is bringing to Carmel next week will crowd the Playhouse with dance lovers. The music and settings used by Ito are beautiful and unusual and in themselves furnish an attraction which should not be missed by anyone interested in the progress of contemporary stage art. Special rates will be made for student groups and for family parties.

The State Division of Industrial Welfare announce two new rulings on women's wages to make the State minimum wage law conform to provisions of NRA pledges. The first ruling sets the minimum wage for women workers in all except agricultural industries at $16 a week for a forty-four standard week in place of the present forty-eight hour week. The second ruling raises from 27½ cents to 30 cents an hour the scale for women workers in canneries. The cannery rule provides that if the women are working on a piece basis the scale shall be so fixed so that at least 25 per cent of the women workers are earning an amount equal to 30 cents an hour.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS MEET WITH MRS. MILLIS

The League of Women Voters met Monday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. Vera Peck Millis, "Casa Querida," on San Antonio.

A thorough explanation of the differences between the World Court, the League of Nations and the Hague Tribunal was given by Miss Helen Hazen.

Plans were made for an international study group to meet twice monthly in Carmel under the guidance of Mrs. W. F. Kilpatrick.

On Wednesday, November 8, the proposed $170,000,000 Central Valley water project will be discussed at a luncheon meeting in Holman's solarium, Pacific Grove, with Miss Nell McKean of Asilomar, chairman of the cost of living group, in charge. Assemblyman Clifford A. Anglin of Richmond is expected to speak for the project, with Attorney Fred E. Athearn of San Francisco opposing it.

Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, the president of the local League, has asked that members come prepared to vote as to the stand they desire the State League to take regarding this project: for it against it, or taking neither side. Bring paper and pencil and take notes.

Reservations for the luncheon, which is served promptly at noon, are limited to 150. The meeting will be opened at 12:30 at which time those not desiring luncheon may attend. All members and interested persons are requested to make their reservations with Mrs. Vera Peck Millis. Telephone Carmel 758, before noon of the day preceding the luncheon.

Regular section meetings are scheduled as follows: International relations, 2:30 p.m. on first Wednesday of each month, home of Mrs. Susan Chakurian, Monterey; efficiency in government, 2 p.m., third Wednesday, with Mrs. Charles A. T. Cabaniss country club; executive board, 2:15 p.m., fourth Wednesday, home of Mrs. J. P. Sandholdt, Monterey.

Dr. Margaret Swigart's class in social hygiene meets on the third Monday evening of each month at homes of various members and plans are being discussed for a child welfare group to be led by Mrs. Julia Breinig.

CARMEL COMMUNITY CHURCH

On Lincoln just south of Ocean avenue.

The theme for the eleven o'clock worship hour is "Virile Religion." The discussion will center on the factors of the Christian faith that makes it a real challenge to the strong men, as well as a way of life for women and children. You will find this presentation alive and practical.

A beautiful sacred duet, "Blessed Savior, Thee I Love" will be sung by Gertrude Bardarson and Miles Bain.

The Church School meets at 9:45. We now have a staff of capable teachers ready to give excellent training to your children. Come and meet them and decide for yourself, whether it is worth-while or not.

The J.O-Y Club for intermediate boys and girls meets from 6:00 to 8:00.

MELVIN C. DORSETT,
Minister.

Pacific Grove students are making a competitive drive for old paper, the winners to receive free theatre passes. Proceeds from the sale of the paper go to the Community Chest.

CARMEL LAUNDRY HAS NEW PRESSING MACHINE

With the installation of a new machine, an operator at the Carmel laundry may now iron the collars and cuffs of a shirt at the same time, the collar machine standing in the middle with the cuff machines on each side.

All modern laundry machinery is so equipped that a person operating it can hardly get a hand mashed as was once the great danger. Some of the machines have two buttons each of which must be pressed before the ironers open, thus requiring the use of both hands.

Carmel laundry is a busy place these days, fourteen employees being required to care for the needs of the patrons.
